Jamie Vollmer

Jamie Vollmer is the author of the highly acclaimed book, Schools Cannot Do It Alone: Building Public Support for America's Public Schools, one of the top ten books on education of 2010 according to the American School Board Journal. He is the 2010 recipient of the Learning and Liberty award presented by the National School Public Relations Association in recognition of his twenty years of efforts to strengthen school/community partnerships.

Dr. Vollmer holds a Juris Doctor from Catholic University in Washington, DC. He received his B.A. in political science from Pennsylvania State University.

Vollmer entered the education arena after careers in manufacturing and law. In 1985, he became in-house counsel of the Great Midwestern Ice Cream Company, in Iowa. According to People magazine, the company makes the "Best Ice Cream in America!" He ultimately became the company's president.

In 1988, Vollmer became a founding member of the Iowa Business and Education Roundtable. He served as a volunteer for two years until becoming the Roundtable's Executive Director in 1990, a post he held for three years.

Once a harsh critic, he is now an articulate champion of America's public schools. Over the last twenty years he has worked with hundreds of school districts, chambers of commerce, and education associations and foundations to improve student success.

Mary Broderick
President
National School Boards Association

Featured Speaker and Presenter

Mary Broderick, a school board member from East Lyme, Connecticut, was elected President of NSBA by the 150-member Delegate Assembly at its April 2011 Annual Conference in San Francisco, California.

Broderick has been a member of the East Lyme Board of Education since 1989. Her board service has included many leadership committee positions, including chair of policy and budget development, and an advisory committee focused on education quality and diversity.

Broderick's advocacy leadership continues at the state and regional level. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education. Her election to the Association's Board was in 1993 and in 2004 she completed a 2-year term as the Board's president.

Broderick served as a committee member on the Connecticut State Department of Education on Universal Pre-kindergarten working with the Governor and regional offices on pre-school education and the achievement gap.

Broderick works with communities to improve odds of early school success as an educational consultant with the William Caspar Graustein Memorial Fund. She also fosters dialogue about educational issues as a consultant with Community Conversations. In 2011, she completed her doctorate in educational leadership at the University of Connecticut.

Jason Hewlett

Featured Entertainment

Jim Carrey, Michael Jackson, Elton John, Louie Armstrong, Nat King Cole, Led Zeppelin, Stevie Wonder, Ricky Martin, Cat Stevens, The Temptations, U2, Guns n' Roses, Coldplay, and Alvin & The Chipmunks are just a few of the performers to take the stage during the unforgettable one-man show of Jason Hewlett, The Entertainer. Audiences coast-to-coast have thrilled at the creativity, hilarious impersonations, touching portrayals, and nostalgia of this one of a kind impressionist/musician/humorist and entertainer.

Jason was born in Salt Lake City in 1978. His first show was in front of his Third Grade class when his teacher promised him some time to perform at the end of the day if he'd remain quiet until then. When his chance arrived, Jason went to the front of the classroom as his favorite TV character, Pee Wee Herman, and his classmates roared with laughter.

Jason received All-State Honors for a play about his school's basketball team and had plans to play in college until one of his heroes, Coach Tony Ingle, noticed Jason's ability to captivate an audience with his humor and impressions. Coach Ingle suggested Jason work on his talents and was introduced to Chris Poulos. Chris helped Jason hone his impressions into a show and Jason began working throughout Utah. In 2007 Jason released his first album of original music titled, "Good To Me," written and sung by Jason and performed in his own voice. The album has been a best-seller at Jason's shows and expanded his repertoire from a show of solely impressions to Jason's creative expression as a very capable and gifted musician.

Chad Lewis

Keynote Speaker

Chad Lewis was a star football player at Orem High School, helping his team win a state championship. Chad won a place on Brigham Young University's football team as a walk-on, and helped that team finish fifth in the nation his senior year.

After joining the Philadelphia Eagles as an undrafted free-agent, he signed with the St. Louis Rams. A year later, he returned to the Eagles and caught two touchdowns in the 2005 NFC Championship game, helping to send them to the Super Bowl.

Chad was selected to play in three Pro Bowls, and is currently NFL Ambassador to China and the Far East. He learned to speak Mandarin while serving a two-year mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and served as color analyst for the first Chinese broadcast of the 2004 Super Bowl.

The author of the book titled Surround Yourself with Greatness, Chad is currently the Associate Athletic Director/Development at BYU. He is married to Michele Fellows, and they are the proud parents of seven children.

Governor Gary R. Herbert

Featured Speaker

Gary R. Herbert is Utah’s 17th Governor. Prior to becoming Governor he served as Lieutenant Governor for nearly five years, and Utah County Commissioner for 14 years.

Under Governor Herbert’s leadership, Utah has been recognized as one of the “Best Managed States” and “Most Fiscally Fit” states. Utah has also been declared the “Best State for Business and Careers” by Forbes magazine.

The Governor currently serves as the Chair of the Economic Development and Commerce (EDC) Committee of the National Governors Association.

Mr. Herbert met his wife, Jeanette Snelson, while attending Brigham Young University. Shortly after their marriage, the Governor joined the Utah National Guard and served for six years. After his military service, the Governor founded Herbert & Associates Realtors. He and Jeanette also began a child care service, The Kids Connection, which they operated for 23 years. The Herberts have six children and 13 grandchildren.

Arizona Room

Facilitator: Wes Christiansen, USBA Board of Directors

The first “big idea” of a professional learning community, and the idea on which all other practices are linked, is that schools should make a cultural shift from a focus on teaching to an intense and passionate focus on learning. This session will highlight what a focus on learning looks like in a school that functions as a true professional learning community, and will provide participants with school, team and classroom examples and practices that will help ensure that more students learn, rather than simply be taught.

CENSUS 2010 — A FIRST LOOK AT UTAH RESULTS

Tucson Room

Presented by Pam Perlich, Senior Research Economist, Bureau of Economic Business Research, University of Utah
Facilitator: John Burton, USBA Board of Directors

Early results from the 2010 Census reveal Utah continues to be part of a net in-migration in the Intermountain West. Data shows Utah, along with the rest of the nation, is becoming more ethnically and racially diverse because of immigration. According to the Census, over one-third of the country’s population can now be classified as a minority, with Utah’s population reaching one-fifth. Adults are in a 33% minority while youth are nearly a “minority majority” at 47%.

Participants in this session may be interested in attending the Latinos in Action session this afternoon to hear about a program that works to propel minority students toward high school success and college admission.

COLLABORATIVE TEAMING IN A PROFESSIONAL LEARNING COMMUNITY

Arizona Room

Presented by Dr. Robert Eaker and Janel Keating
Facilitator: Ellen Aste, USBA Board of Directors

In traditional schools teachers are organized to work in isolation, in spite of decades of research that demonstrates the power of collaborative teaming. The use of collaborative teams is the fundamental organizing principle of a professional learning community, and the primary way work is done in a school that has a deep, rich focus on student learning. However, the power of collaborative teams lies in what they actually do, and this session will highlight the work of effective collaborative teams in a professional community, as well as the principal's role in increasing the effectiveness of each team — team by team, task by task.

ALIGNING THE WORK OF TEAMS IN A PROFESSIONAL LEARNING COMMUNITY

Arizona Room

Presented by Dr. Robert Eaker and Janel Keating
Facilitator: Shannon Poulsen, USBA Board of Directors

Typically, districts that seek to function as professional learning communities focus their efforts on creating teacher teams. While high performing teacher teams are a critical component, highly effective districts align the work of collaborative teams at every organizational level within the district. In fact, the success of teacher teams is dependent on the quality of teaming at the district and school-wide leadership levels. This session will demonstrate how successful districts capture the power of collaborative teaming throughout the entire district by specifically and persistently directing and modeling the work of teams at each level within the district.
