

2022-2023

Utah School Superintendents Association

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I welcome you to the 2022-2023 school year! The past few years have been among the most challenging the field of education and the world have seen! With those challenges we have been given the opportunity to redefine and rethink education in ways that we haven't been able to before. We need to be bold and dare to lead out in new ways that challenge traditional views of thinking and doing things, reigniting our passion for teaching and learning to ensure high levels of learning for each and every student! I love this quote from the book Together is Better.

“Working hard for something we don't care about is called stress. Working hard for something we love is called Passion!”

We are each where we are for a reason, not just by chance! Our schools and communities need leaders with vision and commitment to see these visions through to fruition. Take courage in this fact and move forward with confidence in filling your position. Surround yourself with the best possible people, following the framework of a true PLC, set and hold high standards and expectations, then empower and guarantee this effort with even greater amounts of resources and active visible support.

Work closely with and never hesitate to reach out to your colleagues. The USSA is a very closely knit group of superintendents willing to offer advice and support on any issue you might be facing. We are only an email or phone call away. Attend our meetings regularly, associating and getting to know each other as you do. Sometimes just learning of each other's challenges, can help build awareness and understanding in dealing with our own.

As we have all learned, relationships are key to almost everything we do. Two books that provide great insight on this topic are How to Win Friends and Influence People by Dale Carnegie, and The Speed of Trust by Steven R. Covey. I have used both of these books as the focused reading for my staff at the building level, and more recently for my executive staff. Both are New York Times Bestsellers, and both contain time proven strategies and recommendations on how to improve relationships, while elevating achievement and performance. I highly recommend them both!

In conclusion, please feel comfortable reaching out to me personally, or to any of your colleagues. We welcome the opportunity to offer support, and look forward to an amazing school year!

Respectfully,
Larry Bergeson

For nearly a century, the school superintendents in Utah have worked together in an association to fully understand and analyze education issues and to promote student achievement, opportunity, and engagement. The current membership in the Utah School Superintendents Association includes 41 school districts, the Utah Schools for the Deaf and Blind (USDB), the Utah State Office of Education (USBE), and four Regional Education Service Agencies (RESA) serving rural areas of Utah. Of the 41 districts and USDB, 14 enroll more than 10,000 students, 13 enroll from 2,500 to 9,999 students, and 15 enroll less than 2, 500 students.

The purpose of the Utah School Superintendents Association is:

- To be an advocate for children and public education
- To discuss current and growing concerns in public education and provide leadership on statewide educational matters
- To provide in-service and professional growth opportunities to members
- To cooperate with other educational groups and administrative organizations to maximize influence

Utah School Superintendents Association (USSA) Bylaws

Revised and Adopted April 2017

Purpose

The Utah School Superintendents Association (USSA) has the following purpose:

- To be an advocate for children and public education
- To discuss current and growing concerns in public education and provide leadership on statewide educational matters
- To provide in-service and professional growth opportunities to members
- To cooperate with other educational groups and administrative organizations to maximize influence and for professional development

Membership

Institutional membership is open to all forty-one Utah public school districts, the School for the Deaf and Blind, the Utah State Office of Education, and the Regional Education Service Agencies. Local district superintendents, the Utah State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Superintendent of Schools for the Deaf and Blind shall serve as the Institutional Representatives for their respective institutions, with one vote each. Another person designated by the Institutional Representative may represent the institution at a meeting which the Superintendent is unable to attend. Other educators may attend Association meetings by invitation of a member or as warranted by agenda items. Utah Regional Service Agencies Directors fully participate in the association but are non-voting members.

Dues

The dues shall be set annually by the Executive Committee and shall be payable July 1st of each year.

Meetings

- Monthly Meetings - The regular monthly meetings of the Association will normally be held on the first Monday of every month, unless changed and announced in advance by the Executive Committee or by the President.
- March/April Legislative Debriefing - Each March/April following the end of the Utah Legislative Session, the Association membership shall meet to discuss resulting bills and financial information. This meeting will be scheduled annually by the Executive Committee and convened in St. George, Utah.
- Summer (June) Conference - The dates for the three-day annual summer conference shall be selected by the Executive Committee, and generally, will be held the third week of June. Notice of the date and location of the annual summer conference shall be determined and communicated to all members by April 1st of each year.
- July Professional Development Conference - A two-day professional development conference will be held each year, as approved by the Executive Committee, in July. It will be convened in alternating locations in the northern and southern parts of the State.

Legislative Priorities

Annual legislative priorities will be adopted by the Delegate Assembly, with development by the Association, in coordination with the Utah School Boards Association and the Utah Association of School Business Officials in a Joint Legislative Committee. In addition, the Association shall work toward reaching mutual goals with the Utah State Board of Education and other educational organizations.

Meeting Agenda and Quorum

No less than ten days before a regularly scheduled monthly meeting, the Executive Committee shall meet and establish an agenda to be sent to members. Anyone desiring to have an item considered for inclusion on the agenda should contact a member of the Executive Committee or Executive Director who will contact a member of the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee reserves the right to add late or emergency items to the agenda as needed. For purposes of conducting official business, a quorum is required, and is defined as a majority of Association members.

Officers

The Association officers shall consist of President, First Vice President, Second Vice President, and the Past President. The Second Vice President shall advance through the officer positions to eventually become President and Past President of the Association.

Nominations for office and elections to fill expired terms shall be held in May. Nominations will come from the group of districts involved (in a three-year rotation) but will be voted on by all members. Each year, a Second Vice President shall be elected from one of the three groups of school districts: Group I (Large), Group II (Medium), and Group III (Small) in rotation. The three groups of school districts include the following members:

The Executive Committee will provide him/her with a written job description.

Amendments to the Bylaws

The membership shall be given a copy of any proposed amendment prior to any vote on the proposal. Generally, the amendment will be proposed and discussed in one Association meeting and then voted on not less than thirty days later at a subsequent Association meeting. An amendment may be proposed or voted on by mail.

Superintendent of the Year

The Executive Committee shall determine the nominating and selection process for naming an annual Utah Superintendent of the Year and the selection process shall be the work of the Association's Past President each year. Generally:

- Nominations will be solicited in June
- Voting by membership will occur prior to August 1
- The award shall be announced each September ahead of the year of recognition

State Leadership and Resources

The Utah State Board of Education - The Utah State Board of Education (USBE) is comprised of 15 board members representing areas of the State of Utah. The Board sets general policies and oversight practices for all public schools in the state, traditional and charter schools. In addition, the State Board has direct board oversight for the Utah School for the Deaf and Blind.

The Utah State Office of Education - The Utah State Office of Education employs over 200 educators and staff members who serve the State Board of Education in their leadership and regulatory duties. The office has a strong curriculum staff, devoted, among other duties, to providing professional development, as well as leading legislative and State Board programs.

The USBE can be an effective partner with USSA in providing strong support and leadership for achievement goals. Individual USBE employees may be helpful as resources to superintendents.

Utah School Superintendents Association
Collaborative Statement to Inform Stakeholders
Advocating for Public Schools

Our Primary Goal and Purpose:

To increase effective and efficient student learning.

Our Challenge:

To increase investments in public education, build trust with lawmakers, and establish consistent policies, practices, and accountability measures.

Our Strategies:

To prepare each student for college, career, and civic success by:

- Fully funding all new students (growth)
- Acquiring adequate and flexible funding (WPU) for compensation, URS obligations, and insurance increases
- Attracting and retaining quality educators
- Supporting great teachers and leaders through professional development, professional learning communities, and meaningful evaluations
- Articulating high expectations for all students through standards-based instruction, appropriate assessments, and effective instruction
- Enhancing accountability and transparency through an appropriate balance of consistency (laws and policies) and flexibility (local control)
- Increasing stakeholder (i.e., parents, elected officials, community leaders, etc.) engagement

Key Elements Needed for Student Success in Schools

1. Long-term plan and commitment with adequate resources (high performing countries, states, districts, schools, classrooms)
2. World class standards with local control and collaboration (whole student focused, standards-based, data driven instruction)
3. Strategic investments for students, families and teachers (targeted

4. Effective teachers, leaders, and support staff (recruiting, retaining, mentoring, coaching, evaluating)
 5. Inclusion of all stakeholders in the process (professional learning communities, School Community Councils, and parents/community/agency/business partnerships)
 6. Authentic and prescriptive assessments, with local control, adequate resources, and time to implement (USSA, 2013)

USBA/USSA Policy Services

USBA provides a policy service available to members as they craft local policies around state law. USBA provides model policies which are reviewed by USBA's legal counsel (Burbidge & White, LLC.) for complete compliance to Utah Statutory and Administrative codes. Among other benefits the subscription service includes policy consultation via telephone, email, or in person; timely and informative legal memoranda; board training; and annual policy conference.

The policy service can be accessed under Resources on the USBA website in title of Policy Reference Manual. Or, you can go directly to the service at this link: <http://usba.cc/resources/policy-manual/>. If you have trouble accessing or other questions, please contact Meghan Mendez at 253.973.7227 or mmendez@usba.cc.

American Association of School Administrators (AASA)

The American Association of School Administrators advocates for the highest quality public education for all students and develops and supports school system leaders. Utah district superintendents are invited to join AASA annually.

AASA was founded in 1865 and is the professional organization for more than 13,000 educational leaders in the United States and throughout the world. AASA members range from chief executive officers, superintendents, and senior level school administrators to cabinet members, professors, and aspiring school system leaders.

AASA members are the chief education advocates for children. They advance the goals of public education and champion children's causes in their districts and nationwide. As school system leaders, AASA members set the pace for academic achievement. They help shape policy, oversee its implementation, and represent school districts to the public at large.

AASA believes it is time to get back to the basics of supporting the whole child – from physical and mental health to the development of fundamental, lifelong learning skills. Only when children have support for all their needs will schools have a real chance of helping every student master required education concepts and skills.

AASA's Statement of Ethics for Educational Leaders

An educational leader's professional conduct must conform to an ethical code of behavior, and the code must set high standards for all educational leaders. The educational leader provides professional leadership across the district and across the community. This responsibility requires the leader to maintain standards of exemplary professional conduct while recognizing that his or her actions will be viewed and appraised by the community, professional associates, and students.

The educational leader acknowledges that he or she serves the schools and community by providing equal educational opportunities to each and every child. The work of the leader must emphasize accountability and results, increased student achievement, and high expectations for each and every student.

To these ends, the educational leader subscribes to the following statements of standards.

The educational leader:

1. Makes the education and well-being of students the fundamental value of all decision-making.
2. Fulfills all professional duties with honesty and integrity and always acts in a trustworthy and responsible manner.
3. Supports the principle of due process and protects the civil and human rights of all individuals.
4. Implements local, state and federal laws.
5. Advises the school board and implements the board's policies and administrative rules and regulations.
6. Pursues appropriate measures to correct those law, policies, and regulations that are not consistent with sound educational goals or that are not in the best interest of children.
7. Avoids using his/her position for personal gain through political, social, religious, economic, or other influences.
8. Accepts academic degrees or professional certification only from accredited institutions.
9. Maintains the standards and seeks to improve the effectiveness of the profession through research and continuing professional development.
10. Honors all contracts until fulfillment, release or dissolution mutually agreed upon by all parties.
11. Accepts responsibility and accountability for one's own actions and behaviors.
12. Commits to serving others above self.

- Adopted by the AASA Governing Board, March 1, 2007

USSA membership and AASA membership are separate. Superintendents are welcome to join AASA as they wish.

USSA Community, Government, and Business Partnerships

Utah has many community leaders in business and government who are leading some discussions related to effective schools. USSA partners with these groups to work toward continual improvement in graduation rates, college and career preparedness, school performance, and teacher/administrative excellence. Of course, two of our strongest partners are the Utah College of Applied Technology and the Utah System of Higher Education.

Working closely with them will help ensure sound transitions for our graduating students. Each region in the state has an alliance that includes PreK-16 education, with local leaders participating from each system.

In addition, USSA works with Prosperity 2020, the Salt Lake Chamber, and Education First, as three key business/community groups that have invested time, money and personnel resources to liaison with education leaders at the state and local level. These, and other groups, have also been effective in advocating for legislation that provides excellence in services, policy and resources.
